

Supporting people to learn, grow, and advocate for the lives they want in their communities.

Providence Center
930 Point Pleasant Road
Glen Burnie, MD 21060
410-766-2212

www.providencecenter.com
facebook.com/providencecenterinc

Admissions

About Providence Center

Providence Center is a leading non-profit supporting adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities in Anne Arundel County.

At Providence Center we believe in people. We believe that everyone should be a part of their community and have access to and enjoy the opportunities around them. We believe in Employment First and that a job in the community with competitive pay is possible for everyone who wants to work.

Our unique person-centered approach allows people to direct the support they want to chart their future and achieve their goals.

At Providence Center, we are proud of our exceptional professional staff, our history of service, our community partnerships, and the many men and women who are learning new skills and working and contributing in communities throughout the county.

Programs and Services:

- Self Advocacy
- Person-Centered Planning
- Supported Employment and Job Coaching
- Employment Discovery and Customization including Community Learning Services
- Job Skills Training including Internships and Volunteer Placements
- Community-Based Day Services
- Individual Support Services/Personal Support Services

Providence Center is the provider of choice for individuals and their families because we offer:

- A history of supporting individuals to live their best possible lives
- A commitment to supporting people within their community and helping them advocate for the lives they want
- A comprehensive mix of programs that can be tailored to individual needs and goals through a person-centered planning process
- A caring professional staff who believe in their work and in each person they support
- Job training and supported employment that provide the skills needed to achieve greater independence
- Dedicated nursing and direct support staff in our community-based day services program that provide meaningful experiences each day
- A large transportation fleet that safely and conveniently transports people throughout the community with dignity and the flexibility to meet individual schedules
- Working partnerships with families, advocates, transition facilitators, government agencies, community employers, donors and friends who are committed to Providence Center's mission

Is Providence Center Right for Me?

Providence Center supports residents of Anne Arundel County who are age 21 or older. Our programs are designed for people who want to be active, contributing members of their community. Competitive employment in the community is a primary focus of our programs. We support people who want the opportunity to make their own choices about their life and to advocate for themselves.

Want to learn more?

Contact our Admissions Department at 410-766-2212 ext. 215. The admissions process is convenient and easy. Our admissions staff works one-on-one with people and their families to make the decision process and transition as smooth as possible. Contact us today for more information and to schedule a tour.